to their hiding place by Aunt Chloe Holt, dressed in men's clothes, as a dare to the officers and to the chagrin of the men of the community who were afraid to run the risk of being caught in an act of abetting the fugitives.

Early in 1798 Curtis and his friend, having learned that the "District" had come under the rule of the Stars and Stripes of the U. S. A. returned to his little flock in the Natchez Country. In his absence the church had built a modest house of worship under the leadership of Deacon William Thompson. And having been ordained to the full work of the gospel in South Carolina, Curtis called the members together and put official sanction, "in due and ancient form," on what he had done in 1791 when he was only a licensed preacher.

Soon thereafter a group of Baptists living "on the Fork of Bayou Pierre," sent a few of constituting them into a Baptist Church. Whereupon Salem sent Pastor Curtis and several brethren "to attend at the home of Thomas Hubbard on Friday before the third Sunday in August," when the Bayou Pierre Church was organized in August, 1798. New Hope was constituted on Second Creek, Adams County, in 1800.

Bethel Organized

Later in 1800 the Bethel Church was organized on Bayou Sara, Wilkinson County, some four miles southwest of the present site of Woodville, to become later the Woodville Baptist Church. New Providence Church in Amite County was organized on July 27, 1805, with 12 charter members. On May 9, 1806, Ebenezer Baptist Church was organized on Bear Creek, Amite County, near the Louisiana line. Time had arrived for an Association.

The Mississippi Baptist Association was formed of delegates from these six widely scattered churches — Adams, Amite, Claiborne, Jefferson and Wilkinson Counties — in September, 1806, in the meeting house of the Mother Church, Salem, for a closer fellowship with each other and to combine their efforts for evangelizing this vast wilderness country.

The Mother Church, Salem, did not live long, dissolving in regular order in August, 1834. New Hope ceased to exist about a year later; 1835. Bayou Pierre faded out about 1840. New Providence disappeared from the records about 1930. Thus, only two of the original six churches are left, alive and active today — that is, Bethel on Bayou Sara which continues as Woodville Baptist Church, and Ebenezer.

the rear, wait until they are taken and you can explore down around the front. There is room on the platform, or if not, try the baptistry! They did!

There was the "I will be heard" messenger. If you are not asked to speak, you can ask the speaker a question. Relevancy need not worry a messenger. Then, you can nominate somebody. The "I will be heard" messenger must be heard. If these fail, the book-store is a good place to corner someone and deliver your convention address.

I saw the "do as I say" messenger. This messenger believes in reverence at home. But at a convention, reverence takes a holiday.

You never miss the "remember me" messenger. As you talk with him, he gives the impression that everything is wonderful at his church. He would not think of leaving, you think. But before you leave he says: "If you know of any good church, remember me."

He made it to the Miami Convention, that is, the "left-handed" messenger. This "left-handed" messenger used to be exclusive; he was for the "big boys," who were swarmed by "ole" friends. But now the "left-hander" is handy. I saw some fellows, by whom I expected to be hogged with a warm handshake. But with disappointment, I got the left-hand! There are numerous southpaws among Southern Baptists. If you see me in Kansas City, don't give me your left hand; I had rather have your right foot!

The messenger I saw most frequently in Miami was the "more interested in somebody else" messenger. Who was he? You see this person thirty yards away and he is beaming as he catches your eye. He is so glad to see you. He is more interested in you than the fellows around him. I moved over to speak to this messenger, but he was "more interested in somebody else." It is easier to get a person's attention thirty yards away than it is holding him by the hand. While I was talking at a "more interested in somebody else" messenger, I said, "I lost my wife since I saw you." He patted me on the back as his eyes swept across the crowds like a photographer's camera and said: "Good, I'm glad to know things are going so well with you." He never knew when I "snuk" away.

I close this time, being an "I'll be seeing you in Kansas City" messenger.

Christian Life ---

triumph is in keeping with his plan of the ages. In the death, resurrection and ascension of Jesus, God has made clear what that plan is and what our part in it is to be. He does not promise us there will be no conflicts, but he does promise us the power to overcome them and a peace that will sustain us in the struggle.

"The reason for these surging movements throughout the world is unique and challenging. For many centuries of human history the struggle was for material possessions — nations fought for wealth and a place in the sun. While that struggle still continues in some parts of the world, the major conflicts of our century are caused by long submerged peoples fighting for their inherent freedoms. The major cause for their awakening is the spread of the gospel over the earth. Wherever the Christian gospel has been preached it has awakened in the people a sense of their dignity and worth and has set them straining at the shackles of their bondage.

THE COURAGE OF PRUDENCE

"In view of our responsibility as a major group of world Christians we must be mature enough in our faith and strong enough in our fellowship to face with forthright sincerity the issues among us that vitally affect our gospel witness at home and around the world. There is no reason for us to avoid these issues or couch them in evasive language or sentimental speech. The hard realities of our present situation demand honesty, integrity and a humble sense of responsibility.

"With such courage and convictions we must face the present controversy in our relations with the Negro people. On this issue we are divided in opinion but let us not be divided in fellowship. No one person or group has the wisdom to lead us to a solution of the difficult situation that has developed. Only God in his infinite love and patience can do that. The times call for prayer and deep humility. They call us to repentance toward God and to confessions for hate and hasty words toward our fellowmen.

"The times call us none the less to meet this issue as Christians should. We must meet it with facts and scriptural truth. We must recognize the fact that the problem of race relations in America is rooted deeply in our history and is the product of a series of tragic social experiences that have left their marks on both our groups.

"These deep rooted social attitudes do not easily die. In some areas there can be no quick solution. And those who hope to achieve a peaceful adjustment must gird themselves with patience. The white man should seek to subdue the pride of his old mastery, the Negro the pride of his new achievement.

"The Christian cannot stop at the point of law. He is motivated by love and grace. In spite of all the hate that has been shown and the hasty words that have been spoken Christian people must move into this controversy to accomplish friendly and mutually helpful adjustments."

two small adjacent lots, one containing a small house, on the corner of 15th Street and 38th Avenue. As the lots were located in a fairly new section of town called Gulf Gardens, the two agreed that it would be a good site for a mission. The Gulf Coast Association bought the lots and called as pastor of the mission Rev. Harold Tice, a student at New Orleans Seminary. First services were held at Gulf Gardens Chapel on Sunday, January 3, 1954.

The mission grew rapidly and more space was soon needed.

The old railroad depot at Mississippi City was closed and up for sale at $850. Somebody had an idea. Why not buy the station and use the old baggage room for an auditorium?

The Mississippi City depot, built of cypress and pine, which had stood on that spot for 57 years, since 1899, was purchased. The baggage room was moved six miles to the lot in Gulf Gardens in the three months required, and was ready to begin services by June, 1954. Overhead wires necessitated removing the roof for the journey.

During the first few weeks a tarpaulin served as a roof. Sometimes rain blew in during services, but the members donned their raincoats and stayed.

The men of the church completed the roof, put in a new floor, cut new windows and screened the old sliding baggage doors. (These during the summer let the cool Gulf breeze come right through!) The inside was ceiled with acoustical material and then painted.

Pastor Tice was enthusiastically behind the project all the way.

Gulf Garden Church has plans for an educational building, and for a "real home-to-goodness" auditorium, but it is still enjoying worshipping in the baggage room of the old Mississippi City depot.

After the baggage room was moved the remainder of the station was torn down piece by piece and the lumber used in the construction of Shiloh Memorial Church at Kiln.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION,
THE SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD

Produces and Distributes
AUDIO-VISUAL AIDS

Since 1950 meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention, the Sunday School Board was authorized to serve as the central film producing and distributing agency of the Convention. The action anticipated an aggressive program of production and distribution and a non-profit service to other agencies of the Convention.—Digest of action from Southern Baptist Convention Annual, 1950.

The Audio-Visual Aids Department effectively serves through:

PRODUCTION—A significant ministry of Baptist-produced materials is being developed. (1) A production service for denominational agencies and institutions. Since 1950 Broadman Films has produced seventeen motion pictures and pine filmstrips for forty-five agencies, saving the agencies thousands of dollars. (2) The production of curricular and promotional audio-visual aids, for Sunday school, Training Union, Baptist Student Union, and other areas of work in the churches.

Since 1950 Broadman Films has produced a total of fifty-three motion pictures and forty-eight filmstrips. We stand ready to help any of our denominational agencies in this field on a non-profit basis.

EDUCATION—A field force of six capable men and women work constantly to assist the churches in a more fruitful use of audio-visual aids. They co-operate with various other convention and state agencies and groups and project their work through meetings, workshops in churches, and in associational, regional, state, and Convention-wide gatherings. The Audio-Visual Aids Bulletin is issued monthly.

DISTRIBUTION—Co-operating with the Audio-Visual Aids Department, the Merchandise and Sales Division of the Sunday School Board offers complete distribution facilities for audio-visual materials through all of its book stores. Consultation and guidance in audio-visual aids by special workers in all the stores has become one of the major book store ministries.

Gov. Chandler Seeks Religious Air

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (RNS) — Gov. A. B. Chandler told the North American Christian Convention here that his administration has been trying to establish a religious atmosphere at the seat of the state government in Frankfort.

"And I think we have succeeded," he said. Mr. Chandler gave the welcoming address to some 3,000 delegates attending the Convention's annual gathering. The Convention is an independent Disciples of Christ organization. No business is transacted at its annual meetings which are largely inspirational. The Rev. Harold W. Scott of Columbus, president, declared in his address that it was time for Christians to prove the reason for their existence by practicing the things they say they believe.

We Are Sorry

Due to the carrying of the important mission figures and heavy run of "must" news in this week's Baptist Record, it was necessary to postpone several articles that could possibly wait and cut some others so we could get them in. We trust those involved will understand and look to next week's Record for their articles.

The Effectiveness of a Sermon

What determines the effectiveness of a sermon? That question has often crossed the mind of the writer. This question likewise should be the concern of Baptist preachers in particular and Baptists in general.

A preacher's chief function is perhaps that which he performs in the pulpit. His most sacred duty perhaps is that of breaking the bread of life for the congregation.

Then the question of what determines the effectiveness of a sermon is most important. Effective sermons are surely the objective of both preacher and congregation. A pastor's ministry is largely dependent on the effectiveness of his sermons.

At first thought one would think that the effectiveness of a sermon depends upon the preacher's delivery, material and sincerity.

In second thought we quickly see that the effectiveness of a given sermon depends upon the preacher's ability to preach the sermon and upon the ability of the congregation to assimilate and digest the sermon.

The final effectiveness of the sermon will be determined by the congregation.

The preacher should preach Christ and the Bible, to be sure, but at the same time must apply them to life situations.

Meaning that the preacher's sermons, to be effective, will be laden not only with scripture but with current events and with what is happening in the world today.

Therefore the congregation, to get the benefit of these messages, must be conversant with what he is speaking of.

A preacher may preach a sermon to one congregation with splendid results. He could preach the same sermon to another congregation with only mediocre results. The difference would lie in the difference between the congregations to assimilate the message.

The crux of the matter therefore is the information and development of the congregation.

We now come nearer to the core of the matter. The pastor who wants to improve the effectiveness of his sermons will work at it from two angles—his own preaching and the development of the information of his congregation.

There are many ways in which a pastor can encourage his congregation to become more informed. The best way is to encourage them to read regularly the Baptist Record. We would suggest an occasional reference to this from the pulpit, in bulletins and in other ways.

Frankly we do not know how a Baptist can be an informed Baptist without constantly reading the Baptist Record.

Baptist Record readers in the congregation are easier to preach to. They will more quickly catch the import of the sermon. They will be more sympathetic. They will more quickly catch the point and understand. They will be challenged more readily.

There is hardly anything a pastor can do to improve the effectiveness of his sermons more than by encouraging his congregation to read the state Baptist paper.

Another Encouraging Sign

Another encouraging sign is seen on the Southern Baptist horizon. This is found in the increased interest in Christian education.

Figures released by J. P. Edmunds, secretary of the Department of Survey, Statistics and Information, Sunday School Board, reveal that enrolment in Southern Baptist colleges and schools in 1955-56 broke all previous records with a total of 53,682.

The above do not include 7,722 students registered in special non-credit or extension classes and neither does it include 3,135 students enrolled in the Seminary Extension Department, with headquarters here in Jackson.

We are growing numerically and the above figures reveal that we are growing in our zeal for Christian education.

Another interesting phase of the report was that in 1955-56 a record high in enrolment of ministerial students was reached with a total of 10,782.

The above fact is in sharp contrast with the fact that many of our sister denominations are having to recruit candidates for the ministry.

Southern Baptists and Mississippi Baptists must wake up to the fact that we must provide the facilities for this growing number of our people who want and need an education in a Baptist college.

Looks Like a Political Move

On page one of this issue there is a statement by former President Harry S. Truman that he thinks that the appointment of an envoy to the Vatican right now would be in the interest of world peace.

This statement was made right after he had an audience with the Pope.

We regret the statement by Mr. Truman. We do not like to question one's motives but his statement has all the earmarks of a political move, meaning an effort to curry favor with a certain group.

We feel however that if his statement does receive the favor of a certain group that it will get the dis-favor of another group, meaning most Southern Baptists and many others of like views.

It goes without saying that Mr. Truman has been mentioned as a "dark horse" candidate for the presidency.

His statement is regretted also because the question of an envoy to the Vatican has been quiet now for some time.

But of course we should not have expected the matter to remain quiet. The forces in favor of an envoy to the Vatican will never relax.

Missionaries Still Needed

On page one of last week's issue of the Baptist Record there was an interesting story of how Missionary Day at Southern Seminary at Louisville had produced a flow of foreign mission volunteers.

We were encouraged by the story and we were glad to run it. Similar services were held at other seminaries and schools.

The story was carried somewhat as an "answer" to the plea of Elmer S. West, director of missionary personnel of the Foreign Mission Board, that 375 more missionaries were needed now.

We are glad to report that young people, some of our finest, are now volunteering, but more volunteers are still needed, and will be needed, for the future.

Not all mission volunteers finally become missionaries. It takes many volunteers to produce 375 missionaries.

Sunday School Lesson

By Dr. L. Bracey Campbell

For May 27.

THE CHURCH IN ASIA MINOR

Bible Texts: Acts 12:25-15:35.

Introduction. We give a glance to Barnabas. We meet him first among the saints in Jerusalem, who seem to have given him the name by which he is best known to us. His real name being Joseph, but he was given the name Barnabas as more befitting him, for this word "barnabas" means Son of Consolation. Acts 4:36, where we see him selling a piece of land and giving the whole price of it to the disciples, intending that they should use it in feeding the saints who were without food.

Next we see Barnabas (Acts 9:27) vouching for the recently converted Saul, of whom the disciples were afraid, being at first unwilling to believe that he had undergone so radical a change as he seemed to have experienced.

Again we see Barnabas sent by the Jerusalem saints to Antioch in Syria to help the brethren in the great work there, which work he found to be so great, perceived his need of Saul to assist in it, so (Acts 11:23) he went to Tarsus and brought Saul to Antioch.

Five of the men who composed the leadership of the church at Antioch are named for us. I do not doubt that there were others strong in faith and fervent in prayer, for the church was blessed with a great leadership. Of the five who are named, the names of three we often forget, but the names of the other two we cannot forget; for they were Barnabas and Saul. These names designate the men whom their Lord sent forth to become His pathfinders, and to leave theirs among the few immortal names that were not born to die.

II. ANTIOCH IN SYRIA, A CHURCH THAT PRAYED AT A PRICE.

Did you ever think of what it might cost you, if you should really pray? Here is a mother of early middle age of a charming daughter. The young girl is intelligent, beautiful, attractive, gifted with unusual qualities of leadership. The very sort of a girl to make a brilliant marriage and occupy lofty stations in the society of her city. And her mother is so anxious for the daughter, the mother goes in earnest prayer to God to take that daughter, refine her into fitness for occupancy of the palace of a prince. Then one day, God says to her, "I want your fine daughter among the heathen of Africa, of Argentina, of the slums of a great, wicked city." Imagine the effect of the Lord's demand upon that fond, ambitious mother! Or, brother, you might pray so earnestly to the Lord that He might demand of you that you make a sacrifice you are at first wholly unwilling to make.

Here in the church at Antioch were men and women who prayed, really prayed. But Antioch was the third largest city in the world when these Christians were praying thus earnestly. There was work enough to be done for the Lord in Antioch to keep many times the number of Christians there busy for years. But the Lord said, "I want to take from you the choicest pair of all your men." Now, who in the Church at Antioch wanted to lose Saul or Barnabas? Could not the Lord take someone else less able? But the Lord demanded the best, and the church gave it.

Of course, the man who dedicates himself and all his to the Lord will receive greater joy and blessing from that dedication than he could possibly without it. So of the mother who gives son or daughter, so of the church that gives pastor or prominent member. So was it with Antioch. The church gave its finest, and the gift came back in blessings manifold, and the name of that church lives for all time as the point from which went the first messengers of the cross to darkened Asia Minor and to Europe. So Antioch gave the price that was her great reward. So may it also be in my personal life and yours.

III. PATH AND PROGRESS OF THE SPIRITED

They were "Sent forth by the Spirit," were these two men. The church at Antioch had first received them as messengers of the Lord, as messengers from the Lord, and now the same church gave them to the great task for which the Spirit of the risen Lord had selected them. And the Spirit led them first to Cyprus, the island home of Barnabas, and through them, the Spirit saved the believing and rebuked the servant of the devil. The protocol of the Roman government was the contest between the servant of the devil and the servant to the Spirit, and the outcome of that struggle led to the pro-consul's decision for the Lord.

The power of the Spirit to overcome and defeat the power of Satan is the fact that, whether it finds exercise in the life of an individual or a nation, sets the undeniable seal of genuineness to the reality of the presence of the living Christ in the world today. Have you known a man or a woman in whose heart the very devil sits enthroned, but in whose heart the Spirit of the Lord gets a chance on equal terms to fight for final possession of that heart? The outcome is always the same, and is living proof of the resurrection of Christ and the reality of His active presence in this present world.

The Spirit led His men into the synagogue in Antioch of Pisidia, a considerable city, and here He did through these two strange men a veritable work of the Almighty. But again the devil in the hearts of the unbelieving Jews raised his horrid head, so having planted the seed of the Kingdom there, the Spirit led his servants to Iconium, where a great company believed, both of Jews and Greeks. Here again the unbelieving Jews stirred up trouble, but the Spirit said in effect to the missionaries, "Stay here just because of this opposition, that the devil may see again how powerless he is when the Lord puts forth his opposing might."

The substantial increase of Cooperative Program receipts the first six months of this Convention year was a healthy sign for Mississippi Baptist life. It reveals several things. One, a good spirit; two, a definite faith in the Cooperative Program, and three, a growing interest in world missions. May we keep up the increase.

Sparks & Splinters

Rev. Brooks Wester, pastor First Church, Brookhaven, has been elected as a member of the executive committee of the State Convention Board, to take the place of Rev. Troy Prince, Carthage, who has left the county. The Rev. Mr. Wester was seated as Board member from Lincoln at the meeting May 15.

The Pharsalia Church in Panola Association will hold a homecoming service Sunday, May 27. Missionary Paul Kolb will preach at the 11 o'clock hour.

There were 24 additions, 18 for baptism, in the recent revival at Greenbriar, Tenn. The evangelist was Rev. Carl Duck, pastor First Church, Batesville.

Rev. W. E. Hellen, pastor, West Laurel Church, is preaching in a revival this week at State Line Church, Rev. E. L. Scruggs, pastor.

Rev. Cecil Laird has accepted the pastorate of the Good Hope Church in Newton County.

Rev. W. L. Carlisle has resigned as pastor of the Philadelphia church in Lincoln Association to accept the Ridgecrest Mission at Vidalia, La.

The Deerbrook Church of Noxubee county observed Christian Home Week Wednesday evening, May 9th sponsored by W.M.U. president Mrs. Harvey Hoggard, community Mission chairman, Mrs. Eugene Butler and the pastor, Rev. John Atchely. The main speaker was Edd Britten, county attorney who gave some astounding facts on juvenile delinquency.

Dr. Chester E. Swor has been selected as one of the featured speakers at the Student-Retreat at Ridgecrest June 7-13.

Rev. Paul Sullivan has accepted the pastorate of the Niland Chapel Church in Bolivar Association. He expects to complete his study at Clarke College soon.

Annual Homecoming Day for Mt. Olive Church in Carroll association will be held May 27. There will be an all day service. The preacher for the occasion will be Rev. J. H. Wade, of Kosciusko, a former pastor. Dinner will be served on the church ground. All former members, including former pastors, and all people who are interested in the welfare of Mt. Olive Church are invited.

The experience of Paul (for by that name he has now come to be called) and Barnabas at Lystra is remarkable. A poor man, lame from his birth, who never had walked, sat listening to Paul, who perceiving the earnestness of the lame man, and seeing that he had faith to be healed, commanded him to stand upright on his feet, and the lame man leaped up and walked. The Spirit of the Lord is doing that to men every day of the world. Men who are sinners and unable to walk uprightly, find strength through faith in the Lord to stand erect and walk.

IV. THE HEROISM OF THE MISSIONARIES AND THE PERSISTENT NEED OF THE WORLD

By the enemies of the Cross, Paul was stoned in Lystra and cast outside the city wall as a dead dog might have been, but the Lord was with him, and not only raised him up but gave him grace of courage to enable him to return to visit the Lystrian brethren a short time afterwards. I mention this as an illustration of the courage of the missionaries in the face of danger. The Christians of the world have need of the same brand of courage and for the same need today.

Christianity has spread to many parts of the world today, yet we are told a thousand million men in Asia who never yet have heard of the Christ who for their sakes died and rose again. As a cold matter of fact, there are more unsaved people in the world today than in the day of Paul and Barnabas.

50 Years Ago
The Baptist Church at Charleston, having been in existence for more than twenty years, the 5th Sunday in April dedicated her first house of worship costing $4,100. Pastor W. P. Price of the Second (Calvary) Baptist Church, Jackson, preached the dedicatory sermon and remained for a week's revival meeting which resulted in 20 additions, eleven of them for baptism. Pastor H. W. Rockett, reporting.

40 Years Ago
The South Side Church, Meridian, closed a two weeks' meeting with 120 additions, 105 of them for baptism. Pastor J. J. Mayfield was assisted by Evangelists T. T. Martin as preacher and S. L. Raborn as song leader. C. C. Dunn, Superintendent of Sunday School, reporting.

Pastor Zeno Wall of the Clinton Church with exuberance writes of the recent occupancy of the new pastor's home by the pastor's family, even before the Baptist congregation of the community had a home of its own—they still worshipping in the chapel building of Mississippi College since 1860. The building committee with Dr. J. W. Provine as chairman is commended in glowing terms for the consummation of such a lovely home and the ladies committee, composed of Mesdames A. J. Aven and J. W. Provine as chairman is commended for the handsome mantels and very beautiful electrical fixtures. And to "the utter surprise and delight" of the pastor and family the members of the church "came en masse and gave us a genuine Baptist pounding."

25 Years Ago
A seven days' series of meetings with the Scooba Baptist Church resulted in the membership revived, community blessed, and six accessions, four of them by baptism. Pastor C. E. Bass was assisted by Rev. J. M. Metts of Water Valley as preacher and Rev. W. W. Grafton of Coldwater as song leader.

Counselor's Corner

By DR. R. LOFTON HUDSON

Dr. Hudson, pastor of Wornall Road Baptist Church, Kansas City, Missouri is author of "The Religion of a Mature Person" and "The Religion of a Sound Mind" for the Baptist Women in the Church.

QUESTION: Do you think it is wrong for women to work in the church? If they did not, sometimes we could not have a Sunday school, as there are very few men who will read in our church.

Some of our members quote I Tim. 2:12-15 and I Cor. 14:34-35. Does this apply today?

ANSWER: The principle applies today but there is a general opinion that the status of women was very different in New Testament days, from our day. The principle is stated in I Tim. 2:10, that women are to dress and behave as "becometh women professing godliness." In other words, Paul was not trying to lay down rules for all women of all time, but for those in that particular culture.

In the Galatians (3:28) Paul stated that there is "neither male nor female: for all are one in Christ Jesus." Apparently he meant that there was no discrimination in the church.

This old question of feminism has been kicked around for the last hundred years, especially as women have grown in their freedom. Surely the church does not wish to be the last to accept women on equal level and status with men.

On the other hand, men are the natural leaders, and both men and women are usually happiest when men assume their rightful place. Women can probably do their best service by pushing the men forward in church work. But to quote a verse here and there in the New Testament is a poor way to arrive at Christian procedures.

Address questions to Dr. Hudson, Wornall Road Baptist Church, Kansas City, Missouri.

JAMES A. MCGUFFEE

MONTICELLO — James A. McGuffee, 74, died from a heart attack enroute to the hospital May 2, 1956. Born in Lawrence county on April 25 1882, he had lived his entire life in Lawrence and Lincoln counties.

He lived a simple, unassuming Christian life quietly serving the Lord at Antioch Baptist Church for sixty years. He maintained a cheerful, optimistic attitude toward life, and his infirmities of the flesh graciously, seldom complaining of his inability to live as actively as most men, but just patiently and slowly worked until the job was done.

He is survived by his wife and eight children who serve the Lord humbly and consistently in the communities where they live.

"With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand He has wandered into that fairer land . . . Think of him still as the same, I say; For he is not dead — he is just away."

your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you." (Matthew 5:44)

MISSISSIPPI 100% EARLIER
THIS YEAR THAN EVER BEFORE

Every Association in the state has reported Sunday school Training awards for this year. We have been 100% each year for many years, but never as early as this.

Our very sincere thanks to all who have helped us make this great record so early. A definite program of Training is a MUST for a good Sunday school.

NEWTON ASSOCIATION

CAMPAIGN
A simultaneous Sunday school program was promoted in Newton association the week of April 9-12, sponsored by the Association and the state Sunday School Department.

Seventeen churches cooperated, with the following results: 3 new Extension departments; 5 new adult classes; 1 new Young People's department; 1 new Junior-Intermediate class; 2 new Intermediate classes; 1 Primary-Beginner class; 1 new Primary department; 1 new Beginner class; 2 new Nursery departments, and 3 new Cradle Roll departments. In addition, 19 other new units were promised, with the plan of their being set up soon, making a total of 40 new units for the week's work.

Missionary Charles Everett had done an excellent promotional job of getting the people prepared for the week, and many good things were achieved. The cooperation of the people was wonderful and the spirit most encouraging.

We are grateful to all for making such a good week possible.
